Vinification

The grapes that go into this wine come from the Molina area, close to the Andes Mountains in one of the coldest sectors of the Curicó Valley, which lends the wine good acidity and a fresh, mineral character. The grapes were harvested in late March, crushed, and submitted to a 2-hour cold maceration at 8ºC prior to alcoholic fermentation at temperatures controlled to 13º–14ºC over the course of approximately 25 days.

Tasting Notes

Golden yellow in color with delicate aromas of tropical fruits such as pineapple with notes of mandarin orange and honey. The palate is fresh and well rounded.

Pairing Suggestion

Perfect with salads, mild cheeses, and fatty fish such as salmon.

Our Inspiration

A better world is possible, and we believe that the correct path is one that takes us back to basics, back to nature, one that encourages us to face each day with imagination and determination. It's a way of being, and we see it as an inspiring movement. That's what we believe, and it's also why we created TERRAPURA, a line of wines that brings together the best of Chile's wine valleys and perfect for all those who never stop seeking.
